

Sarah I. Sawah RN, MS

Sarah I. Sawah is the nurse coordinator and administrator of the Division of Urology and Renal Transplantation at the American University of Beirut Medical Center (AUBMC) - Lebanon. She received her nursing education and training at the American University of Beirut (AUB). She gained her nursing skills and experience as a registered nurse through her practice on a medical-surgical ward at AUBMC for five years. She received her Master's Degree in Physiology from AUB in 2004. Before assuming her current position, she obtained additional clinical training in the Department of Surgery, Division of Organ Transplantation at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center – UMASS Memorial Healthcare.

